

Affiliate Disclosure

Deal Chuno | WhatsApp Channel & Business Account | Last updated: June 19, 2026

FTC Disclosure Compliance

In 2015, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) released guidelines requiring publishers to clearly disclose when they earn money from links they share. This notice exists so that everyone following Deal Chuno on WhatsApp knows exactly how this channel works and how it earns from the deals posted here.

What You Should Know

- Deal Chuno shares deals, discounts, and offers from Amazon, Flipkart, Myntra, and 50+ other brands and platforms.
- Many of the links posted in this channel are affiliate links. If you click a link and make a purchase, Deal Chuno may earn a small commission from the retailer or platform — at absolutely no extra cost to you. The price you pay stays exactly the same.
- Deal Chuno only shares deals it believes are genuinely useful or good value. Inclusion of a deal is not a guarantee of price, stock availability, or quality — always verify final price and terms on the retailer's own page before purchasing.
- Deal Chuno is an independent publisher and is not officially affiliated with, endorsed by, or sponsored by Amazon, Flipkart, Myntra, or any other brand mentioned, beyond standard affiliate partnership programs.

Your Privacy on WhatsApp

- Following this Channel does not share your phone number or identity with Deal Chuno or with other followers — WhatsApp Channels are broadcast-only and anonymous to the channel owner by design.
- If you message the Deal Chuno Business account directly, your number and message content are used only to respond to you and are not sold or shared with third parties for marketing purposes.
- You can stop receiving updates at any time by simply unfollowing the Channel or blocking the Business number — no action is needed on our end.
